

Daily Eagle.

N. M. MURDOCK & BROTHERS, Proprietors.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS OF NEWS.

G. K. Reed takes charge of the Mulfave Record.

The street cars have been doing a land office business of late.

It is estimated that there were over 3,000 strangers in the city yesterday.

There will be a festival at the Presbyterian church to-night at Mulfave.

Kellogg's market reports are a great convenience to our grain and stock men.

The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias adjourned at about ten o'clock last night.

The Golden Cross division and Knight Templars band, left for home last evening.

The Wyandotte division did not reach Wichita until yesterday evening, hence their stay in our city was short.

As several persons are desirous of joining the G. A. R., that organization will have a special muster at an early day.

The Taucered division of Columbus did not compete for the prize yesterday. The Taucered must be after big fish.

A large number of ladies in carriages were present in Riverside park yesterday to witness the prize drill and hear the band concert.

The Tremont dining room yesterday had the appearance of military headquarters. The tables were surrounded by gayly uniformed Knights.

The Charlotte Thompson dramatic company will appear at the opera house on the evenings of May 25th and 26th, in Jane Eyre and Camille.

Photographer Rogers was on deck yesterday with his camera, and took several photographs of the competing divisions of Knights of Pythias as they appeared on the drill ground.

During the K. P. exercises at the Park yesterday, quite a number of ladies and gentlemen took advantage of the occasion afforded, and enjoyed a short row in Mr. Gay's pleasure boats.

A rather slim audience greeted the Hyer sisters at the rink last evening, which was probably owing to the bad weather. The entertainment is quite well spoken of by those who heard it.

The social hall which was to have taken place at Goddard on the 16th inst., has been postponed on account of the bad weather till the 27th. Wichita people are cordially invited to attend.

Rev. T. W. Woodrow, (Universalist) will preach at Russell Hall Sunday, May 25th, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. Subject, "By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them." The public cordially invited.

Quite a number of business houses closed their doors yesterday at 1 o'clock, and remained closed during the day, so as to allow their employees to attend the band concert and prize drill.

Charley Luling says his father writes him from Pike county, Ill., that the prospect for a corn crop in Illinois is not very promising this spring, and that some of the farmers are engaging their new crop of wheat for 75 cents per bushel.

Hon. J. J. Buck, of Emporia, has been selected to deliver the address at this place on decoration day. This beautiful and very impressive ceremony is now every year in this city largely observed.

Some days ago, H. W. Kendle embarked a body and shipped it to Hookstown, Pa., a distance of about 1,100 miles. It was eight days on the road, but reached its destination in an excellent state of preservation.

W. B. Williams, U. S. deputy marshal, passed through the city yesterday for Fort Reno, where he goes to work up another Oklahoma boom, and secure recruits for another raid to the new but somewhat uncertain El Dorado.

Many of the visiting Knights are loud in their praise of Wichita and the kind and courteous treatment extended to them by our citizens. We assure the Knights that distinguished guests and that a warm welcome is always ready for the Sir Knights.

Messrs. Hacker and Jackson, of this city, have been appointed general western agents for the celebrated Franklin-Lehigh coal for the state of Kansas, including Missouri river points. The coal company, in a circular directs the users of their coal to address Messrs. Hacker & Jackson, all of which is in favor of Wichita's wholesaling interests.

Last Monday night at the show a gentleman occupied a reserved seat and a vacant seat on either side of him. Several gentlemen with ladies requested him to move so as to let them have seats, but he refused. Hutch remarked: "Now there is a sample of the American hog. I don't blame Bismarck for excluding him from Germany." Some few people show the American hog in refusing to give way to the processions of Knights on the sidewalks.

Our young artist friend Mr. R. E. Lauck has taken from his easel another of his paintings. In many respects it shows the touches of the true artist. It is a sunset scene in autumn, of rough ground, a still lake of many indentures and dark shadows. In the high foreground is a scene of action life—a greyhound at the moment of seizing a deer in full flight over a steep embankment. Mr. Lauck's methods and combinations of colors are his own, he never having attended an art school. His last work is his best.

Yesterday afternoon as a man by the name of Shaff, living in Gypsum township, was driving north past the Occidental hotel, his team became frightened and ran off, capsizing the wagon, which killed the driver and two daughters were sitting. The oldest daughter was thrown out, striking the ground quite forcibly on the head and shoulders, causing very painful bruises. Fortunately the rest of the family escaped material injury, and the team was caught before doing further damage.

TWO MANY TREES IN WICHITA.

There can be no question about the beauty of shade trees in a town like ours, but there is some doubt about their healthfulness. The trees are now so large as to completely break the wind, and the shade is so dense as to prevent the evaporation of the rainfall. Hence, when malaria is prevalent the winds cannot carry it away, and the sun does not get in to dispel it. That means fever, chills, and all the ills that accompany these diseases. This out the trees, good neighbor, let in the wind and sun, and preserve the health of the people.

A PLEASANT TIME.

The visits to the Grand Lodge of K. of P.'s, all speak in the highest terms of the courteous treatment they have received at the hands of the committee, one and all. Col. Woodcock was smiling in his efforts, and Capt. S. S. King and Chas. Hatten, as well as many others were constantly on the alert, while Sir Knight Frank Sherman's was headquarters for all, and refreshments and carriages were priceless, because the boys could not pay for them.

TAIL FEATHERS AND FLOATING DOWN.

With Which a Local Reporter Plumes the Readers of the Eagle.

Howard Soule says the remarks of Mr. Osborn of Butler county, in last week's EAGLE Down—sent the farmers into the wheat fields to more closely examine the growing wheat. He says the farmers in the northwest part of this county have no fears of the chintz bug this summer—that the wheat is late, but the weather is unfavorable for the prosperity of the chintz bug. I am satisfied that the prospect for a full crop is better west of the Arkansas river, than on the east side. The land west of the river being more sandy. The cold weather that has prevailed this spring has not retarded the growth of the young wheat to the same extent as on the east side. The railroad is reaching out for Anthony, and it will not be many days until Anthony will be the terminus of an important railway. When that is accomplished the good people of that prosperous city may grasp the hands of irrepressible Judge Bayne, and say, "well done good and faithful servant." Bonny Bear is starting in the drug business at Clearwater. If that young city secures a few more business men as good as Ben it will be all right.

The sidewalks on Douglas Avenue are twelve feet wide, but owing to the large amount of merchandise displayed on the north side, the pedestrians must all go single file. There are places where two persons can scarcely pass. R. P. Ferries has one of the newest little steam engines in his place that I have seen. He also has a complete engine lathe and is doing some nice work. The State of Kansas, in order to keep her funds safe, takes it away from Kansas banks and deposits in New York banks. The New York banks speculate in stocks and loose money, and Kansas is left. For my part I cannot say that I am sorry. The street railway company have had some drivers on lately that do not seem to take as much pleasure in beating the poor mules as some heretofore employed. Some people have yet to learn that the patient mule relishes kind treatment, and that when he is kindly treated he becomes more attached to his master than the horse.

Mr. Woodford, in his temperance speech at the rink last Sunday night, told an alarming story of a bank in Illinois that issued seven hundred dollars in new, crisp notes, and it was all paid out to laboring men in just forty-eight hours. Three hundred and seventy-five dollars of that same money was deposited by the saloon men. He conveyed the idea that the money was all spent for liquor. When Bill and Jake Eckhart were running their saloons, they cashed checks for nearly all the laboring men in the east end of town on Saturday night, and do not suppose one per cent. was spent for liquors. It is a ten dollar bill on Saturday night, and wants to pay his grocery bill and the barber 75 cents and five or six other men small amounts, he wants change for his ten dollars. The saloonkeeper will accommodate him if he has that much change, and they generally have more small change than any other business man.

Mr. Woodford made such an impression on his audience, telling how the moderate drinker went over the hill to the poor house. But when the meeting closed and Mr. Hewitt told the six or seven hundred people present that $175 must be raised to pay the expenses of these meetings, the saloonkeepers could not come down with cash enough to run a saloon ten months. Gabe Carlton says he could offer some excuses for being in town on show day, but he said they would be so flimsy that nobody would believe them, so flimsy that nobody would offer them. The show on Monday was attended by an immense crowd. The people in this country do not have enough of holidays, and these shows offer the farmers the only chance for amusements. It is all right to go to the show, I think.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Capt. R. M. Spivey, one of Newton's most substantial citizens, came and talked with us an hour to-day about Wichita's unprecedented prosperity.

J. E. Shaw, the postmaster of Mulfave, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Edward Roll and lady, of Hiattville, Barton county, are visiting in the city.

G. W. Brown, editor of the Cheney Journal, gave us a call last evening. He says the DAILY EAGLE is the biggest enterprise ever undertaken in Wichita.

Max J. Alwens, of Beloit, called at THE EAGLE office last evening.

P. M. Gable, deputy warden of the state penitentiary, gave us a pleasant call yesterday.

C. J. Sargent and T. H. Davis, of Smith Center, were on the streets yesterday.

J. S. Harris, of Newton, was present yesterday at the prize drill.

John Egan, leader of the K. T. band, was among yesterday's callers.

T. D. Hamilton, of Topeka, was in attendance at the meeting of the K. of P. He was the guest of C. S. Treat, of this office.

C. E. Cox, of Lincoln, Nebraska, gave us a call yesterday. He is on his way to Wellington, where he contemplates getting up a business directory of that city. About that two years ago Mr. Cox published a very complete and valuable directory of this city, and we have no doubt will do as well by Wellington. He is a very pleasant gentleman, and is thoroughly familiar with the work he contemplates.

We are pleased to say that Dr. H. Owen who has been very ill for sometime, is able to be on the streets again.

We received a pleasant call last evening from Mr. Frank L. Yerane, business manager of the Charlotte Thompson theatre company, who was in the city arranging dates for the appearance of this celebrated actress.

GOING DOWN.

The cold steel is going down rapidly in the direction of Kingman. Last evening only nine miles of gap was left between Wichita and the metropolis of the Nineteenth. We would like it if the new road would give the Kingman folks a free ride on the completion of the line which will so closely bind the two places in the future.

LAST NIGHTS BALL.

The ball given at the opera house last evening in honor of the visiting Knights who yet lingered in the city, was quite largely attended, through the inclement state of the weather had a tendency to check the timid and keep them at home. The room had been fastidiously and quite elaborately decorated with appropriate mottoes and emblems, which with the handsome uniform of the Knights tended to make the occasion one of much attraction. Everyone seemed to enter into the feeling of good fellowship that prevailed, and right merrily did the time pass until quite a late hour, when the party dispersed.
